

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

Currently in the case, after amendment, claims 1, 3, 4, 7 & 8 are pending and rejected.

It is respectfully requested that this Application be re-examined in view of the following remarks, that the rejections be withdrawn, and that allowable subject matter be identified.

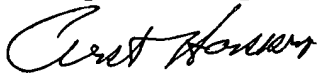

The points raised by the Examiner in the written office action will be responded to in the order they were discussed by the Examiner in the Office Action.

- (1) Amendment to the Abstract in the same manner as amendment to the specification has been done.
- (2) Seceification has been changed to eliminate "62" and vitiate the need for further drawings correction.
- (3) Informalities on pages 8 and 16 (not 14) of the specification have been corrected.
- (4) Claim informalities have been amended as per Examiner comment.
- (5) Claim 1 center of the hub and stop assembly has been emphasized.
- (6) The recitation in paragraphs 8-10 that it is OBVIOUS to have an offset structure is incorrect because:
 - (a) No other structure shown in Little, Listbarger or Roesch enables one-person operation. This is the subtle but heretofore unachievable goal of other "spinning" type tire apparatuses.
 - (b) no other structure has been taught nor suggested as having the simplicity of applicant (or his plate or his through hub extending capability {the latter not having been addressed by the Examiner}).

(c) Applicant's overall invention is a potential energy saver and has been wholly unaddressed by Little, Listbarger or Roesch. Further, Little, Listbarger & Roesch have aspects which clearly teach away from this. (Roesch has the handle which must be operated and requires 2-person operation) (Listebarger has a complex mechanically advantaged handle which inhibits 1-person operation) (Little has a counter weight which would harm a user trying to unload a tire from one side).

Applicant requests reconsideration and ultimate allowability of all aspects of the case, including all of claims 1, 3, 4, 7 & 8. The Examiner is invited to telephone Applicant's Attorney at the number below between the hours of 1:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, if such will advance this case.
